GOLDEN PATHWAYS

BEGINNING PATHS

Pathways of Yesterday,
Casting a golden beam
Along life's way,
Lead from a small, calm village
Into a rushing world.
Time is flowing down the cool, rippling brook,
Winding along the lane of Memory,
While echos are calling through the tall, stately pines—
Calling to the world of tomorrow.
Pathways of Yesterday
Wind into the world of reality
So dream while strolling
Down the Golden Pathways.

Dedication

We, the Seniors of Jeffersonville High School, wish to dedicate this book to our faculty, who was the guiding light upon our pathway to education, who inspired and encouraged us where the road was roughest, and through whose understanding and willingness to help made our timid, unsure steps grow stronger and more steadfast. You held the goal in sight when the storm seemed darkest, and watched o'er us when we were afraid. Long may you continue to light the path of knowledge with your leadership. Most humbly and gratefully do we express our thanks.

SENIORS

SENIOR POEM

UPWARD WAY

The sun, throwing brilliant rays
Along the paths
Was a guiding light
To the builders of tomorrow.
Youth climbed hills
And crossed streams into darkness
To reach higher toward the goal.
Along these paths were guide posts
And guides lending a helping hand
Over the rough spots and the
Stumbling stones.
Youth went onward for education—
The corner stone of democracy.
